Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

- 1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
 - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 2. Claims 1, 10, and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Corrigan et al. (US Patent 6,219,840).

As to claims 1, 10, and 15, Corrigan et al. teaches the steps of: placing incoming calls in a list / single channel (col. 4, lines 32-43 - where Corrigan discussed a voice telephone call can be placed in an available single channel 218); analyzing the incoming calls to determine video channel type and moving the incoming calls to a list / six TDMA channels (col. 4, lines 43-56; col. 6, lines 36-61).

Corrigan et al. does not explicitly teach receiving at least two incoming calls.

However, since Corrigan et al. teaches video conferencing services (col. 6, lines 36-40), hence It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made that there at least two incoming calls in a conference environment, otherwise there would be no conference.

3. Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Corrigan et al. (US Patent 6,219,840) in view of Ahuja et al. (US Patent 6,175,575).

Art Unit: 2614

As to claim 8, Corrigan et al. teaches grouping an incoming call with other channels comprising a video call (col. 6, line 36 through col. 7, line 5). Corrigan et al. does not teach calculating delay compensation.

Ahuja et al. teaches calculating delay compensation (col. 7, line 54 through col. 8, line 7).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to incorporate the teachings of Ahuja into the teachings of Corrigan for the purpose of having a more efficient system by reducing the bandwidth have been transmitted and the overall system load drops, as discussed by Ahuja (col. 8, lines 1-7).

4. Claims 3-7, 11-14, 16-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Corrigan et al. (US Patent 6,219,840) in view of Gilman et al. (US Patent 5,757,781).

As to claims 3, 11, and 16, Corrigan et al. does not teach analyzing each of the incoming calls uses a framing listening technique.

Gilman et al. teaches analyzing each of the incoming calls uses a framing technique (col. 5, lines 19-31).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to incorporate the teachings of Gilman into the teachings of Corrigan in order to have a more efficient system.

Art Unit: 2614

As to claims 4-5, 7, 12-13, and 17, Gilman et al. teaches the framing technique distinguishes between H.221 framing, bonding channel framing, and transmitting a multi-frame pattern (col. 5, lines 9-36;).

As to claims 6, 14, and 18, Corrigan and Gilman do not teach determining whether a previously sent video unit identifier has been returned. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made the above mentioned feature in order to have a more efficient system and assisting the processing steps of determining video channel type.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 2 and 9 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

As to claim 2, prior art of record fails to teach, or render obvious, alone or in combination a method for processing incoming ISDN calls comprising: receiving at least two incoming calls occur within a time interval less than that required to process an incoming ISDN call; placing each of the incoming calls in a temporary call list; analyzing each of the incoming calls to determine video channel type; and moving each of the incoming calls to a permanent list based on the channel type of the call.

As to claim 9, prior art of record fails to teach, or render obvious, alone or in combination a method for processing incoming ISDN calls comprising: receiving at least two incoming calls; receiving a value representing a transfer flag; receiving a value representing a channel identifier; receiving a value representing at least one of a physical video unit identifier and a group identifier; receiving a value representing a rate multiplier; and receiving a value representing a bonding mode; placing each of the incoming calls in a temporary call list; analyzing each of the incoming calls to determine video channel type; and moving each of the incoming calls to a permanent list based on the channel type of the call.
